Fire Follows an Explosion in an English Hotel,

CAUSING GREAT LOSS OF HUMAN LIFE

The Number of the Dead Placed a Thirty-Two---A Large Number Injured --- Miraculous Escapes and Heroic Rescues.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—A report has just reached here to the effect that there has been a terrible explosion at Black stores are said to have been wrecked by the explosion, twenty people are re-ported killed and a large number of others are reported to be injured.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS received at 8 30 p. m., from Blackburn sny that the Crown hotel and two stores on Victoria street collapsed immediately after the explosion, the cause of which is unknown. As the dispatch referred to was sent the Crown hotel was in flames and from its ruins the most heartrending cries were issuing: The entire building has tumbled in upon those unlucky enough to be in the building, and a most serious loss of life is expected. There are at least thirty persons buried in the ruins of the hotel while over a dozen are said to

The entire police force and fire brigade of Biackburn are at work upon the ruins, and every effort is being made to save life. Almost every man, woman and child in and about Biackburn has assembled in the neighbor hood of the explosion, and it is with the utmost difficulty that the police can maintain order. The fireman are assisted in their efforts by hundreds of

It is expected that all in the ruins have perished. There were, however, leath.

When the buildings fell, after the explosion, a number of people were passing, among them a woman with a child in her arms. A lot of bricks fell on the woman, killing her instantly, but the child escaped without injury.

A boy belonging to a grocery store was on his way into the Crown hotel with a basket of groceries when a companion jokingly stopped him and ran away with a box of mustard from the basket. This caused the grocery boy to run after the lad who was leaving him. Just as he did so there was a heavy, duli explosive sound, appar neary, dure exposive sound, appar-ently from the cellar of the hotel, and in another moment the building was a heap of smoking ruins. Cries of hor-ror arose on all sides. The two stores also collapsed and the flames sprang from the hotel ruins, and shricks of agony could be heard as if from the depths of a furnance.

The firemen, in their efforts to save life, are said to have found an old man who was pinned down beneath two beams in the back of the hotel. It is udged that others have met a similar

Several heroic efforts to save life were made by the police and firemen One of the latter, in attempting to res-cue a child whose cries could be heard in the rules of the Crown, fell into the flames, and was so severely burned that his life is despaired of. It was only with difficulty that he was rescued by his comrades hoy have met death in the ruins. One poor woman with five children clinging to her skirts and a babe at her breast is the center of sympathy and interest in the crowd. She is supposed to be the wife of the assistant cook of the Crown, and her cries and those of her children are enough to make a heart of tone bleed Five bodies have already been re-covered. They are burned or crushed almost beyond recognition.

The cause of the explosion still seems to be a mystery. It is hoped that there are not so many people buried in the ruins of the two stores as was first supposed. The police estimate the dead at twenty-three. A number of injured are being cared for at the hospital and in neighboring buildings. A large corps of volunteer physicians is upon

Death of the Oldest Man in West Virginia.

GRAFTON, W. Va., Dec. 1.—Josiah Carpenter, the oldest inhabitant of West Virginia, died at his residence in Preston county, Sunday. Estimates of Carpenter's age varied, but none placed him under 190 years. He claimed to have been in Loudin county, Vu, in 1739, and is therefore 159 years old. He claimed to remember Braddock's deeat, and to have served as a teamster at that time. Carpenter had a son wh died ten years ago at the age of 80. Until recently his health has been fairly good. He has one daughter still iving who is over 80.

VALPARAISO, Dec 1.-The United Press correspondent was informed yes-terday, on the authority of an official holding a high place in Santiago, that the Chilian government had no inten-tion whatever of offering an apology or indemnity, such as the American president requested, and had no intention of recalling or modifying the reply given to the American request, and that any expectation that President Montt would, in this respect modify the policy adopted by the junta was misleading. The presi-dent himself, it is said, was the most earnest advocate in the junts of a defi-ant retort to the United States, and virtually dictated the answer sent to Minister Egan. President Montt has not changed his views since he ex-changed the office of chief of the junta for that of president, and Chill is silent now because there is nothing to be said. Meantime, although President Montt has recommended a cutting down of the army and navy, no steps have been taken to carry out the recom-mendation, and even the volunteers sent back to their homes in the north were told to retain their arms

Many terrible scenes of distress have been witnessed about the ruins upon the part of those who have relatives among the missing and who fear that they have met death in the ruins. Being the Second Event of the Kind the History of the Catholic Church-Pentifical Mass-Banquet-Torchlight Procession.

ST Louis, Dec. 1 .-- The fiftieth and versary of the consecration to th rick, auchbishon of St. Louis, the sec and event of the kind in the history of the Catholic church, took place yesterday in the presence of an array of dis-tinguished church dignitaries such as has been rarely seen in this country. Among the innumerable gifts re-served by the aged prelate is a beautiful new residence erected on Lindell boulevard, as the gift of the admiring itizeus of St. Louis. The grand pontifical mass commem-orative of the jubilee was celebrated in the Walnut street cathedral, by his emmence Cardinal Gibbons, and was the most impressive ceremony ever wit-nessed in a Catholic church in this

At the conclusion of the mass the cardinal, archbishops, bishops and other dignitaries of the church were driven to the Lindell hotel, where the jubilee banquet was given in honor of Arch-bishop Kenrick and the guests assem-ting prelates and clergy, was delivered by Rev. Father Goller, rector of St. Peter and St. Paul's church, after which a number of teasts were drank. About 350 guests, all elergymen, sat down to the banquet.

A torchlight purude, composed of about 20,000 torchbearers, from the different Catholic parishes, and headed by a brilliant staff of mounted men acting as escort and aids to the grand marshal, together with state and mu-nicipal officers, took place at night, and was witnessed by an immense concourse of people. This morning, at 9 o'clock, the children of the various parishes gave a reception to the venerable archbishop and his guests in the Exposition music hall, 3,000 young voices join-ing in rendering a grand to down, and in various other exercises befitting the occasion, Including an address to his

Paris, Dec. 1 .- Popular excitement of the controversy between th rement and the archbishop of Aix.

In the city of Aix there is a numerous arty opposed to the church, so far at least as concerns its connection with the state, and these resolved to give the archbishop, on his return, a recep-tion that would show that his course had not been popular. When the train bearing the prelate arrived in the sta-tion at Aix, a multitude was assembled that evinced a most hostile disposition. Loud hisses were heard as the arch-bishop alighted, and the crowd made a ush as if about to seize him. He was rudely hustled, if not actually struck, and would have suffered more severely but for the police, who managed, with considerable force, to disperse the unriendly concourse. The church Catholics, however, made up in some degree for the uppleasant experiences of their archbishop by pre-senting him with a splendid mitre and crozier in token of their appreciation of his conduct. The archbishop ex-pressed himself as deeply moved by this evidence or regard and affection, and was still more deeply touched when a number of children, beautifully attired, appeared bearing gifts and flowers. The church controversy, which had become largely dormant, is revived everywhere with more than its old animosity, and rages nowhere more bitterly than in Aix. Brought to Justice by a $20-Gold Fiece

HEART FAILURE.

When a person dies suddenly now a days, the cause is attributed to heart failure. In nine cases out of ten it is not heart difficulty at all, but is due to congestion of the lungs. People take cold, and the lungs congest. The rapidity with which this is done is remarkable. A prominent citizen of an interior town took a Russian bath last winter and emerging from the bath house, put on a light overcoat, and started to walk home. He had progressed a little over half a block when he fell and had to be taken into an adjoining house. Medical aid was summoned, and he barely escaped with his life, and yet he was perwinted from the date hereof.

Democratic party. The Decatur Review has answered the question in a single editorial in several ways. It admits that the logical sequence of Democratic theories on the tariff is free trade. It also claims that the Democratic purty favors protection. The most reckless admission the Review makes, however, show that the Democratic party does not know what it favors, but is governed in its opinions by circumstances. It does this u the following statement: in the following statement:

We don't know just what are Mr.

Mills' private opinions about what is best for the country (?). He may be a free trader when fixing an ideal condition in his own mind. But it is certain that when he is saving the Democratic party he swallows a great deal of profession. It may be that he is compelled to do this, but it such is the case it is conclusive evidence that the Democratic party stands squarely for a large measure of protection.

That eminent Democrat says:

I do not think the silver issue out so much of a figure as is thought. The tariff was the issue. Our people in Ohio are not free traders. The McKinley tariff bill is not such a bad law. The dates are about 15 per cent too high, but the principal is all right. The tariff represents something economically, while free trade represents only wind. Ohio can never be carried on the issue of free trade. Thus it was that Mills coming here, representing only the wind of the argument, did us no good, if indeed, no harm. Church Changes

The business meeting of the member of St. Paul's German Lutheran congregation was held last night at the church, with William Ebert and W. Moner as bairman and secretary. At this session Rev. J. W. Lessman tendered his resignation as pastor, and it was accepted. Those members of St. Paul's who had brothers both arrive, of course, shortly after his appearance. It is upon th rranged to join the new society, St. John's Lutheran church, withdrew, and complications that arise out of this situation that the play and the fun turn. Incog will be preceded by a one-act comthe old congregation became divided as to membership in one church, but united edietta, introduced as a curtain-raise in religious work. The trustees of the St. John church are to be paid $1,500 by the St Paul church, thus settling all claims of the new society to property belonging to St. Paul's church, and the last named congregation will pry all ob-ligations incurred, which will not exceed $500. The new society will worship in the school building until a new brick church in the eastern part of the city more conveniently located, is built-The question of the location of the church is what caused the division.

Shot at Thieves Monday morning early, between 2 and c'clock, C. E. Clements, the night watchman in the west end, had a lively experience with two robbers whom he liscovered apparently in the act of breaking into the residence of Sullivan Burgese, city engineer. Clements came upon the robbers suddenly, and threw the light of his lantern upon them. Both fired at him at the same time and then fled westward across the Persons and Trayer lots. Clements fired at the fleeing men, but they got away. Fortunately the watchman was not injured. This is the second attempt that has been made to rob the Burgess place. Mr. B. does not keep any money at home; but all the same the robbers appear to have it in for him.

Managing Editor

The many Decatur friends of Charles H. Dennis, a graduate of the Decatur High School and son of Andrew Dennis will be pleased to learn of his recent mo portant promotion in Chicago. He has ust been advanced to the position of managing editor of the Chicago Daily Vetes, a position held by Dr. Reilly, ately elected secretary of the State Boutd of Health to succeed Dr. Rauch. Of course the position carries with it increased salary. Mr. Dennis is a hard worker in the newspaper field and is recognized by the Chicago fraternity as one

AN OLD-FASHIONED IDEA.

It used to be thought that the only way to save money was to "sult it down" in an old pewter pot or something, a little at a time, as it could be spared. No one over thought of getting interest on his savings or of making the money in the pot earn anything. It is not so new. People have grown into better ideas. So small a sum ra 40 centa per month may be sayed and profitably invested in the Equitable Building and Loan Society of Peoria. Same as high as $120 per month may also be saved and invested.
